10. Redeemer's International School is a Christian School and as such Biblical principles will govern all actions by staff and students. Parents wishing their children/wards to be admitted must realize that no provision is made for other faiths. Whilst profession of Christianity is not a requirement for admission. All students must take Bible Studies and attend all required Christian activities as established by the Board. Whilst no cohesion or pressure will be applied, there is every likelihood that those who are not Christians may become interested in the Christian faith.

Parents must agree that should this happen, the child is free to choose to become a Christian.
